

Bee MoorheadExecutive Director, Texas Impact and Texas Interfaith Center for Public Policy

Bee has been Executive Director of Texas Impact since 2000, managing every aspect of the organization's work and answering to a 45-member board of directors. The Texas Impact Board is made up of representatives from the state's many faith communities.

Under Bee's leadership, Texas Impact has moved from fewer than 1,000 members to more than 20,000 and earned recognition as a national leader in interfaith education and community leadership development

Bee spent eight years as a senior fiscal policy analyst for former Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts, John Sharp. Bee was responsible for the Comptroller's attention to public policy issues related to health and human services, and she was the chief architect of Family Pathfinders, a unique program linking Texas congregations and civic organizations with families on public assistance.

Bee holds a B.A. in Drama from the University of Texas in Austin, and a M.A. in Public Affairs from the Lyndon Baines Johnson School of Public Affairs at the University of Texas.
